Master of Teaching Pathway Requirements

Please carefully review the below information:

The Master of Teaching (Secondary) requires that you study one Major Learning Area and one Minor Learning Area, in alignment with the Australian National Curriculum.

1. To be eligible to study a Major Learning Area under the Master of Teaching (Secondary), you must have completed a minimum of six undergraduate courses (27 units), relevant to that area, including a minimum of two advanced courses (AQF Level 3).

You must meet Major Learning Area requirements for at least one curriculum-aligned learning area, to be eligible for entry into the Master of Teaching (Secondary).

2. To be eligible to study a Minor Learning Area under the Master of Teaching (Secondary), you must have completed a minimum of four undergraduate courses (18 units), relevant to that learning area, including a minimum of two intermediate courses (AQF Level 2).

Note: To be eligible to study Psychology as your Minor Learning Area, a minimum of six undergraduate courses must have been completed.

If you do not meet the requirements to be assigned a Minor Learning Area, you may choose from the following Minor Learning Areas that require no prior knowledge:

- Integrated Teaching and Vocational Education (ITVE)
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Language (TESOL)
- Islamic Pedagogy
- Lutheran Studies (via cross-institutional study arrangement)

Undergraduate study must clearly align with the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) course-level requirements outlined within this document.

This will ensure that graduates of the Master of Teaching (Secondary) will meet the standards required by the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership (AITSL) and the Teachers Registration Board.

Introductory courses equate to AQF Level 1 (e.g., EDUC 1109); Intermediate courses equate to AQF Level 2 (e.g., EDUC 2061); and Advanced courses equate to AQF Level 3 (e.g., EDUC 3086).

Should you wish to apply for entry into the Master of Teaching (Secondary), upon completion of your undergraduate program, you must submit your proposed undergraduate study plan to your Program Director for approval.

If your undergraduate program has not been identified as a guaranteed pathway into the Master of Teaching (Secondary), but you would like to pursue postgraduate study in teaching, please seek further advice from your Program Director.

Teaching Eligibility Information

- Graduates of the Master of Teaching (Secondary) will be qualified to teach Year 7 through to Year 10 in their Minor Learning Area.
- Graduates of the Master of Teaching (Secondary) will be qualified to teach Year 7 through to Year 12 in their Major Learning Area.
- Please note that all applicants to the Master of Teaching (Secondary) program must fulfil non-academic entry requirements, including a Teaching Capabilities Statement.

Key Terms

Course: Most singular courses at UniSA equate to 4.5 units. Some large, more comprehensive courses, equate to 9 units, or 13.5 units. A full-time UniSA student will generally complete four courses per semester, or courses equivalent to 18 units.

Program: Your UniSA program is comprised of many courses. A full-time UniSA student will generally complete eight courses per year, or courses equivalent to 36 units. A three-year, full-time degree is comprised of 108 units.

AQF-Level: All courses offered within UniSA programs must align with the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). Most courses studied in the first year of your program will be Introductory courses (AQF-Level-1); most second-year courses will be Intermediate course (AQF-Level-2); and most third- or fourth-year courses will be Advanced courses (AQF-Level 3 or higher).

Major: A sequence of eight courses, or 36 units, within your chosen program. A major generally consists of two Introductory courses (AQF Level 1), two Intermediate courses (AQF Level 2) and four Advanced courses (AQF Level 3).

Minor: A sequence of four courses, or 18 units, within your program. A minor generally includes a minimum of two Intermediate courses (AQF Level 2) and at least one Advanced course.

Major Learning Area (Teaching Pathway): A Major Learning Area is a group of between 6 and 10 courses, aligned to the Australian Curriculum, which provides you with advanced knowledge in that field. To be eligible to enter the Master of Teaching (Secondary), you require one Major Learning Area.

Minor Learning Area (Teaching Pathway): A Minor Learning Area is a group of at least four courses, aligned to the Australian Curriculum, which provides you with intermediate knowledge in that field. To be eligible to move through the Master of Teaching Pathway, you will require one Minor Learning Area.

If you do not have the requisite study for a Minor Learning Area under the Master of Teaching (Secondary), you may only choose one of the following Minors, requiring no prior knowledge:

- Integrated Teaching and Vocational Education (ITVE)
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Language (TESOL)
- Islamic Pedagogy
- Lutheran Studies (via cross-institutional study)

Available Major and Minor Learning Areas

The tabled information below is specific to students studying in DBCI (Bachelor of Creative Industries), MBME (Bachelor of Film and Television) or MBAA (Bachelor of Arts)

Note: Students studying the Bachelor of Film and Television need only select a Minor Learning Area - their Major Learning Area under the Master of Teaching (Secondary) will automatically be 'Media Arts'.
