

What does an engineer do?

University of South Australia

- focuses on the creation and evaluation of physical things,
- to put it simply, an engineer, e.g. mechanical engineer is a person who uses the tools of science and technology to create new things and to understand & improve existing things for the benefit of mankind.

What does a mechanical engineer do?

University of South Australia

- A mechanical engineer does
 - Design
 - Manufacture
 - Test/operate
 - Inspect/measure
 - Analyse/evaluate
 - Commission/decommission
 - Communicate
 - Constantly strive for new and innovative creations!