

Career Development: a workshop for PhD students Division of Health Sciences

Craig Williams, Dean: Research Education
April 2015

University of
South Australia

This session...

- Strategic purpose of a CV
 - Guest: Tony McAvaney, Careers Advisor, LTU
 - Different cvs for different contexts
- Experiences of an early career researcher
 - Guest: Dr Steph Reuter-Lange
- Portfolios for your career – some exemplars
- Group work
- What on-line profiling tools work for you?

E-portfolios for career advancement – some exemplars

E-portfolios for career advancement – some exemplars

Dr Amber Stokes

Now Assistant Prof California
State University Bakersfield

<https://sites.google.com/site/amberstokesbiology/home>

<http://scholar.google.com/citations?user=0OmdRRgAAAAJ&hl=en>

Dr Cameron Webb

<http://medent.usyd.edu.au/staff/cw.htm>

<http://sydney.edu.au/medicine/people/academics/profiles/cameronwebb.php>

<http://www.linkedin.com/in/cameronwebb>

<http://cameronwebb.wordpress.com/>

<https://twitter.com/Mozziebites>

Prof Tanya Monro

<https://twitter.com/tanyamonro>

University of
South Australia

Dr Michael Kearney

<http://scholar.google.com.au/citations?user=syZcRdgAAAAJ&hl=en>

<http://michaelkearneyresearch.wordpress.com/>

University of
South Australia

Roshni Thattengat

<https://twitter.com/rthattengat>

Jackson Ryan

<https://twitter.com/sciencejayz>

University of
South Australia

Group work I: your e-portfolio/on-line profile

- What format(s) work for you?
- Pros and cons of each?
- Is context important?

Group work II: share your soundbite

- Can you describe yourself in 140 characters?
- Write a short summary of yourself which might be used as an 'elevator pitch', twitter descriptor or CV snapshot